

Every parent could use help
with their child's diabetes.

Even if that child is a rock star.

Meet Denise Jonas. Three of her boys are better known as The Jonas Brothers. One of them, Nick, has type 1 diabetes. Keeping it managed takes effort. Fortunately for Denise and other parents of young people with diabetes, there's a website from the National Diabetes Education Program that can help: www.YourDiabetesInfo.org

Diabetes is serious. But you can learn to manage it.
